How Many Microphones (Max 4)?

Please note Epic Missions has 4 large flat screen televisions and PA system located outside in the 3,200 sq. ft. pavilion that are permanently mounted to accommodate groups that require both audio and video services. Large conventional screens and projection cameras do not illuminate well in the Florida outdoors except at night.

For this reason, if you require both audio and video for your retreat, we suggest using the flat screen televisions to display your movie or computer presentation or lyrics for all around best performance.

You must provide your own computer and cables that terminate in a standard male HDMI adapter for video signal. The male HDMI will then be plugged into our video system. Please make sure you come prepared with that type of video signal cord. HDMI cords cannot carry BOTH audio and Video into our system. For that reason Audio signals need to be output separately from your ipod or computer into our PA system. Audio out cables from your computer or ipod should terminate in stereo (2) RCA female adapters. We will then plug those into the audio system to be provided.

All sound and video systems must be operated by Epic Missions authorized techs. You are responsible for any damage to either the video or audio systems caused by your teams or equipment (other than normal wear and tear). Cost for Audio / Video services for weekend retreats are $200.00 and will be billed in your invoice.
